IWLA Young Ikes Activity Books

Izaak Walton League members across the country have been leaders in connecting young people to hunting, fishing, conservation, and the great outdoors.

Available in vibrant color with original illustrations on 100% recycled paper, these two newly-produced Young Ikes Activity Books are filled with games and puzzles designed to engage future conservation leaders. Activities were developed using age-appropriate concepts and are centered on the League's core conservation mission: Defending America's soil, air, woods, waters, and wildlife.

These activity books are ideal for introducing youth to conservation issues, whether you have a Young Ikes program at your chapter or are working with youth in your community. Each book includes space on the back cover for you to personalize with chapter information (e.g., phone numbers, address, meeting dates, Web site).

Inside each book you'll find …

Activities for youth ages 5 – 8:

- Soil: Matching animals and insects to their places above and below ground.
- Air: A maze that helps youth navigate around air pollutants.
- Woods: Coloring page that helps youth match the names and images of animals that rely on dead and dying trees for food and shelter.
- Waters: Crossword puzzle on animals that live in and around the water.
- Wildlife: Connect the dots — and the North American predators to their prey.
- Bonus: A hidden picture puzzle that encourages youth to explore outdoor America.

Activities for youth ages 9 – 11:

- Soil: A crossword puzzle that explains problems caused by soil erosion and introduces organisms beneficial to soil health.
- Air: An energy quiz that explores the pros and cons of different sources of energy, including their potential effects on air quality.
- Woods: A word scramble using the names of animals that rely on dead or dying trees for food and shelter.
- Waters: Finding the differences between two pictures to identify actions people take that can improve or damage water quality in nearby streams.
- Wildlife: Matching animal names to signs left by wildlife.
